The family of Thorold is of great antiquity in Lincolnshire, its ancestors having been Sheriff thereof previous to the Conquest. A Thoroldus de Buckenhold, Sheriff of Lincoln in 1052, during his shrievalty, gave his manor of Spalding for a cell in the Abbey of Crowland. Sir William, the 1st baronet, was knighted by James I. when but sixteen years old, he suffered greatly for his loyalty to Charles I., and paid to the sequestrators of his estate the sum of £4,460. The 4th and 9th baronets each represented Lincolnshire in Parliament. The 12th baronet sat as M.P. for Grantham (C) 1865-8.

Son living—ANTHONY JOSEPH HENRY DOUGHTY, b. June 29th, 1914

Widow living of 12th Baronet—MARY GWENDOLINE (Lady Doughty Tichborne), da. of the late Edward Henry Petre, J.P., of Whitley Abbey, Warwickshire (see B. Petre, colls.) m 1st, 1887, Sir Henry Alfred Joseph Doughty-Tichborne, who d 1910; 2ndly, 1914, Lieut. Col. Frank Rowley Metcalfe Charles de Rittich Mauduit, formerly Indian Army.

The family of Tichborne, which was of great importance in Hampshire before the Conquest, derived its name from the river Itchen, at the head of which it had estates; hence it was called De Itchenborne, since corrupted into Tichborne. Sir Benjamin de Tichborne, Knt., Sheriff of Southampton, on hearing of the death of Queen Elizabeth, immediately repaired to Winchester, and there proclaimed King James VI (of Scotland) as King of England. In 1621 he was created a baronet, the honor of knight-hood having been previously conferred upon three of his sons, while his fourth son, Henry, was subsequently knighted. Sir Henry, the 3rd baronet, hazarded his life in defence of Charles I. in several enterprises, and his estates were sequestered by the Parliamentarians. After the Restoration he was successively Lieut. of the New Forest and Lieut. of Ordnance. The 9th baronet assumed the additional surname of Doughty. In 1869 the title and estates of the 12th baronet were claimed by a person who came from Australia, and asserted himself to be Roger, eldest son of Sir James, 10th baronet. The family, believing that Roger had been lost at sea, refused to acknowledge the claimant, who thereupon became plaintiff in the celebrated cause of Tichborne v. Lushington. After a trial, in 1873, which lasted several months, the claimant elected to be nonsuited, and the presiding judge committed him to prison for perjury. For this offence he was indicted and at the memorable trial at bar, which lasted from May 1873 till Feb 1874, he was found to be Arthur Orton, the son of a butcher at Wapping and not Roger Tichborne, and sentenced to fourteen years' penal servitude. Arthur Orton died in 1898, having in 1895 admitted his identity.

The family of Turing, originally French, settled in the barony of Tourin, in Forfarshire, which they held for several generations. Sir William Turyn attached himself to the fortunes of King David II, and shared that monarch's exile, his loyalty was however subsequently rewarded by a grant of the barony of Foveran, in Aberdeenshire, which his descendants held more than 300 years. The right to this baronetcy was sustained by the Lyon Office in 1882 to Sir Robert Fraser Turing, 8th Lt., and by a Committee of the Privy Council in 1912.

The noble family of Vane, whose records have been kept at the College of Arms since the earliest visitations, descends from Sir Henry Vane, knighted at the battle of Poitiers 1356. Sir Ralph Vane was made a Knight Banneret by Edward VI, and according to a recorded patent of [4 Edward VI] 1552, he was subsequently granted, for services at the battle of Pinkie, 'the order, state, rank, honour, and dignity of a Baronet', this grant, too, while making no specific provision for succession, also include the Manor and Castle of Penshurst, "in order that the said Ralph may be better enabled and empowered to sustain the burden of his rank and state aforesaid, and also in consideration and as part of the recompense due from us to the said Ralph for the ransom of the said Earl of Huntley, his prisoner." The estates, until the succession to them of Sir Henry Vane (the elder), the trusted Minister of James I and Charles I, were in the valley of the Medway, the Manor of Hadlowe together with Hadlowe Castle and other estates were sold while Raby and Barnard Castles were bought from the King by the Vanes. The family then divided into two main branches, the descendants of the sons of Sir Henry Vane (the elder) of Raby viz., those of Sir Henry Vane (the younger) the well known Republican Leader, and Sir George Vane, a distinguished Loyalist. The former is now the family of Vane of Raby (Barons Barnard, formerly Dukes of Cleveland), and the latter of the Vanes of Hutton (Baronets). The present Baronet is 17th in legal male descent from Sir Henry Vane of Poitiers and 7th in descent from Sir Henry Vane (the elder), of Raby Castle. Sir Frederick Fletcher Vane, and baronet, sat successively as M.P. for Winchelsea and Carlisle, and unsuccessfully contested Cockermouth 1818. The 4th baronet was High Sheriff of Cumberland 1856, and Vice Lieut. 1880.

The name of this family is supposed to be derived either from Walsham le Willows in Suffolk, or Walsham St. Mary in Norfolk, in both of which counties, as in Cambridgeshire, the Walshams were of note, and often of knightly rank, from the end of the 11th to the beginning of the 18th century. The Walshams of Knill represent a branch that settled in Radnorshire about 400 years ago, through the marriage of John Walsham with Mary, granddaughter and heiress of Sir Jenkin Harvey of Llanvair, Knight. From this marriage lineally descended John Walsham, who married Barbara, granddaughter and heiress of John Knill, Esq., of Knill Court, M.P. for Radnor temp. Philip and Mary, and was the direct ancestor, in the ninth degree, of the present baronet. The 1st baronet received his baronetcy as being the eldest coheir and representative of Gen. Sir Thomas Morgan Bt., whose title, created 1660, became extinct on his death 1768. Sir John Walsham, K.C.M.G., 2nd Bt., was Envoy Extraord. and Min. Plen. to China 1855-92 and to Roumania 1892-3.

The Welbys are an ancient Lincolnshire family, of which the first mention appears in the "Liber Niger Scaccarii temp Hen II" this records that Johannes de Welbe held, under Mauricius de Crun a knight's fee and a half, "de antiquo feodo" enfeoffed before 1135. Many of them have successively sat in Parliament since 9 Hen V. The first who served as Sheriff of Lincolnshire was Roger de Welby in the 20 Richard II. The 1st, 2nd and 3rd baronets successively represented Grantham in Parliament and the 3rd baronet assumed the additional surname of Gregory. Sir William 4th baronet, also sat as M P for Grantham (C) 1857-68 and for Lincolnshire 1868-84 and assumed by Royal license 1876 the additional surname of Gregory

The 1st baronet, Sir Matthew Wood born 1767, was the son of a serge manufacturer, of Tiverton and at eleven years of age worked in his father's factory. At fourteen he was apprenticed to Mr Newton, druggist at Exeter. After serving seven years, he became a traveller in the drug trade, and subsequently established himself in London as a chemist. He afterwards became a hop merchant, and was chosen Alderman, served as a Sheriff, and in the year of the Peace, 1815, was elected Lord Mayor of London, to which office he was re-elected the following year. He also sat as M.P. for London (L) 1816-43. During his mayoralty he was bold and fearless. On one occasion, after a lawless mob had shot a man on Snow Hill and were approaching the Exchange, he, with only seven others, rushed through that building and held the rioters in check while he arrested several of the ringleaders. He took an active part in the cause of Queen Caroline. He accompanied her through Calais and Dover, on her journey to London in 1820 and placed his house in South Audley Street at her disposal. His fortune was after much litigation, augmented on the death of Jemmy Wood, the banker, of Gloucester, to the extent of £250,000. Among these possessions was the estate of Hatherley Court, in Gloucestershire, a fine old ivy mantled mansion and from its name his second son, William Page, who was Lord High Chancellor 1868-72, selected his title.

THE KNIGHTAGE AND COMPANIONAGE. ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD, ETC.

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

Lord Chamberlain's Office, St James's Palace, S W.

Secretary and Registrar—The Comptroller of the Lord Chamberlain's Ceremonial Department

The Insignia of the lower class of an Order should on promotion of the recipient to a higher class be returned to the Central Chancery, except in the cases of the Order of St Michael and St George, which should be returned to the Chancery of the Order at Downing Street, and of the Royal Victorian Order, which should be sent to the Secretary of that Order, Buckingham Palace, S W., and recipients of the Indian Orders resident in India, who return theirs to the Secretary of that Order in India.

KNIGHTS of the GARTER, THISTLE, and ST. PATRICK, and KNIGHTS GRAND CROSS or GRAND COMMANDER of the various Orders wear their Collars only on special festival days, or when commanded by the Sovereign. These are tied on the shoulder with white satin bows $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide. The collar and ribbon of an Order are never worn together. When a Knight of this degree possesses more than one Order, only one Collar should be worn at a time, but the ribbon and Badge of the second Order may be worn with it.

KNIGHTS COMMANDERS of the various Orders wear the Ribbon and Badge round the neck, inside and under the Uniform Coat Collar, or with evening dress, under the white tie, the Star is affixed to the left breast. DAMES COMMANDERS wear a like Star on the left side below the Badge attached to a ribbon tied in a bow.

When a Knight is entitled to more than one Star, if two, they should be placed immediately above one another, that of the senior order being at the top; if, however, there are three Stars, the senior one should be above and the other two should be placed side by side underneath, in the case of four Stars, they are worn one, two, and one.

MEMBERS of the ORDER OF MERIT, COMPANIONS OF HONOUR, COMPANIONS OF ORDERS OF THE BATH, STAR OF INDIA, ST MICHAEL AND ST GEORGE, INDIAN EMPIRE and BRITISH EMPIRE, and COMMANDERS of the ROYAL VICTORIAN ORDER wear ribbon and Badge in the same way as Knights Commanders. Ladies who are COMMANDERS of the BRITISH EMPIRE Order wear the Badge attached to a Bow on the left side of the coat or dress.

OFFICERS and MEMBERS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE Order (both ladies and gentlemen) wear the Badge on the left breast of the coat or dress.

NECK BADGES—With uniform only the senior is worn round the neck, the others in order one below the other between the buttons. In evening dress the senior (or that most appropriate to the occasion) is worn round the neck, the remainder it is permissible to wear in miniature (except O M and C H, never worn in miniature) on the coat lapel.

Miniature Insignia of Knights Grand Cross and Knights Commanders are only worn in accordance with Army Regulation, and there is no miniature for Commanders of the Royal Victorian Order.

Insignia, Decorations and Medals may be worn with morning dress on official occasions and at public functions. The Ribbons of the Orders, Decorations and Medals may be worn on all occasions at the discretion of the holder.

* * * Biographies of the Knights and Companions of the undermentioned Orders are given in the sections following

THE MOST NOBLE ORDER OF THE GARTER

The Order of the Garter, constituted by King Edward III, about August 1348, has, since June 28th, 1831, consisted of the Sovereign and twenty five Knight Companions, such lineal descendants of King George I, as may have been elected, and of Sovereigns and extra Knights who have been admitted by special statutes. The Prince of Wales is a constituent part of the original institution. The Habit and Ensigns of the Order are (i) A GARTER of dark blue velvet, edged with gold, bearing the motto, Honi soit qui mal y pense, in gold letters, with buckle and pendant of gold, richly chased [It is worn on the left leg, below the knee.] (ii) A MANTLE of blue velvet lined with taffeta, with a representation of the Garter encircling the Cross of St George on an escutcheon argent embroidered on the left shoulder, the Sovereign having the star (iii) A HOOD of crimson velvet (iv) A SURCOAT of crimson velvet, lined with white taffeta (v) A HAT of black velvet, lined with white taffeta, and fastened thereto by a band of diamonds, a plume of white ostrich feathers, in the centre of which a tuft of black heron's feathers. (vi) A COLLAR of gold (weighing thirty ounces, troy) consisting of twenty four pieces, each in the form of a Garter surrounding the Tudor Rose, connected by twenty four knots of chased gold, and pendant thereto (vii) the GEORGE, an enamelled figure of St George on horseback, encountering the dragon (viii) The LESSER GEORGE or BADGE is worn pendent from a four inch dark blue ribbon over the left shoulder (ix) The STAR of eight points of silver, in the centre the Cross of St George gules, encircled with the Garter. At death the Badge and Star are delivered up to His Majesty by the Knight's nearest male relative, the Collar (with pendant Badge) and Garter being returned to the Central Chancery. The Chapel of St George, Windsor Castle, is the chapel of the Order.

twenty-two Knights, also certain Ladies and Honorary Knights. The Insignia are (i) the STAR of silver consisting of eight points—that is to say four greater and four lesser rising from a centre enclosing a representation of the Badge of the Order, but without the wreath of thistles. (ii) The MANTLE is of sky blue satin wrought in Ireland lined with white silk on the right shoulder a hood of the same, the Mantle being fastened by a cord of blue silk and gold and it has the star of the Order embroidered on the right side. (iii) The COLLAR of pure gold is composed of five roses and six harps alternately each tied together with a knot of gold the roses being enamelled alternately white leaves with red and red leaves with white and in the centre an Imperial Crown surmounting a harp of gold from which is pendant (iv) the BADGE of gold is of oval shape and as oval (but there are several circular specimens in existence) it is composed of the Cross of St. Patrick gules on a field argent (holw in practice surmounted by a thistle sprigged vert each leaf charged with an Imperial Crown or, all within a circle of sky blue enamel (sometimes in practice gold) with the motto of the Order, Quis separabit MDCCCLXXXIII, thereon in letters of gold, the whole enclosed in a wreath of trefoils enamelled in their proper colours on a gold ground. The Badge is removed from the chain when it is worn with the ribbon of the Order, which is sky blue four inches wide; the Grand Master and Officers of the Order use one two inches wide. At death the Collar (with Badge pendant), and the Star of Knights invested after 1918, are delivered up by the Knight's nearest male relative to the Sovereign of the Order. There is no Chapel of the Order, but before the Disestablishment of the Irish Church Investitures took place in St Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, now they are held in St Patrick's Hall, Dublin Castle.

The ceremony of investiture is as follows. The two Junior Knights conduct the Knight elect to the Sovereign's presence. The Chancellor of the Order reads over to him the declaration, the Knight elect repeating it sentence by sentence. He then signs the Register and kneels down, when the Sovereign assisted by the two Senior Knights present, places over the new Knight's right shoulder the ribbon with badge, reading the admonition. After kissing hands the Knight rises and is girded with the sword the Chancellor pronouncing an admonition. He is next robed with the Mantle, a further admonition being read by the Chancellor. The new Knight's banner is then unfurled, and, after a flourish of trumpets, Ulster King of Arms declares the new Knight's title, the Sovereign shakes his hand, and Ulster conducts him to his seat.

THE MOST HONOURABLE ORDER OF THE BATH

The Order of the Bath was instituted in 1399. After the time of Charles II it fell into decay, and remained obsolete until it was revived by George I in 1725. The provisions of the Order were enlarged in 1815 and further extended in 1847, when new statutes regarding appointments to the Order were promulgated, these subsequently being modified in 1905 and 1912. It now consists of three classes: (i) KNIGHTS GRAND CROSS (fifty five military and twenty seven civil), exclusive of the Sovereign, Princes of the Blood Royal, and distinguished foreigners who may be nominated to the honorary distinction. These Knights are entitled to receive a grant of supporters to their armorial bearings and to wear the collar, the badge, and the star embroidered on the left side of the crimson mantle below a white silk lace. (ii) KNIGHTS COMMANDERS (145 military and 105 civil), exclusive of foreign officers who may be admitted as Honorary Knights Commanders. Each Commander is entitled to the distinctive appellation of knighthood after he has been invested with the insignia and to wear the badge pendent by a two-inch crimson ribbon round the neck. (iii) COMPANIONS (705 military and 283 civil—further increased as to civil in 1912, to enable Naval officers above the rank of Lieut to be decorated—exclusive of any "Additional Members" which may be appointed), wear the badge pendent by an inch and a half crimson ribbon on the left breast.

The Insignia are (i) the COLLAR of gold (weighing thirty ounces troy), composed of nine Imperial Crowns or and eight devices, each consisting of a rose, a thistle, and a shamrock, issuing from a gold sceptre all enamelled in their proper colours, the crowns and devices being linked together with seventeen knots enamelled argent, and having pendant therefrom the badge of the Order. (ii) The MILITARY KNIGHT GRAND CROSS STAR is formed of rays of silver, thereon a gold Maltese cross, in the centre whereof on a ground argent three Imperial Crowns, one and two or, the three crowns within a circle gules inscribed with the motto of the Order, Tri juncta in uno, in letters of gold, the said circle encompassed by two branches of laurel proper, issuant from an escroll azure inscribed Ich dien in letters of gold (iii) CIVIL KNIGHT GRAND CROSS STAR is of rays of silver issuing from a centre and charged with three Imperial Crowns, one and two within a circle gules upon which is the motto of the Order in gold The Collar and Badge are returned at death to the Central Chancery, but not so the investment Badge and Star (iv) MILITARY KNIGHT COMMANDER'S STAR is in the form of a cross patee of silver being made of four rays of silver, between each of which is a smaller ray, also of silver, and has the same centre as the Knight's Grand Cross but without a gold Maltese cross thereon (v) CIVIL KNIGHT COMMANDER'S STAR is of the same form and size, but without a laurel wreath round the circle containing the motto and the escroll, and without the words Ich dien underneath [The Crowns in the Stars are of different designs for Civil and Military] (vi) MILITARY BADGE is a gold Maltese cross of eight points, enamelled argent, edged gold, and terminating with small gold balls, in each of the four angles a lion passant guardant or, in the centre on a ground argent the rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuant from a sceptre between three Imperial Crowns all or, within a circle gules, thereon the motto of the Order,

INSIGNIA OF THE ORDER OF THE BATH.

Tria juncta in uno, in gold letters and encompassed by two branches of laurel proper, issuing from an escroll azure inscribed Ich dien in letters of gold [It is worn by Knights Grand Cross pendent from a four inch crimson ribbon across the right shoulder to the left side by Knights Commanders and Companions from the neck] (i) CIVIL BADGE is oval and comprises a rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuing from a sceptre between three Imperial Crowns the whole pierced and encircled by the motto, all gold [Civil Knight Commanders wear the same badge of a smaller size round the neck by a crimson ribbon and Civil Companions a still smaller size suspended from the neck] The Badge and Star of a K.C.B. and the Badge of a C.B. are not returned after death but the Collar and Badge of a G.C.B. should be returned to the Central Chancery of the Orders of Knighthood The MANICLE of a Knight Grand Cross is of crimson, bearing on the shoulder a representation of the Star, and the Hat is also of crimson high crowned and with a plume of white feathers at the side Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey is the Chapel of the Order

THE ORDER OF MERIT

This is a very exclusive Order, instituted by King Edward VII on June 26th, 1902, by letters patent, but carries with it no special title or personal precedence.

The BADGE of the Order (which is always worn round the neck, is never worn in miniature, and is not returnable at death) consists of a cross of red and blue enamel of eight points, having the words "For Merit" (the motto of the Order) in gold letters within a laurel wreath on a blue enamel centre. The reverse of the badge shows the Royal and Imperial cipher in gold (two silver swords with gold hilts, placed saltirewise between the angles of the cross, being added in the case of members chosen for military or naval distinction) also within a laurel wreath, on a blue enamel centre, and the whole is surmounted by the Imperial Crown enamelled in colour, and suspended by a parti coloured ribbon of Garter blue and crimson, two inches broad. The Sovereign's insignia, except, of course, for the modifications necessary to distinguish the Royal dignity of the wearer, is similar to the insignia worn by the ordinary members of the Order. The ceremony of investiture is from time to time conducted by the Sovereign as in the case of any other Order, the members designate being introduced by the officer of the Order in attendance. Members of the Order are entitled to attach a facsimile of its badge and ribbon to their arms, and add the letters O M after their names, usually after those of the Bath. The Seal of the Order is a facsimile of the badge, impaled with the Royal Arms, on a white ground, with the legend, "The Seal of the Order of Merit." June 26th is the anniversary of the Order. The Secretary and Registrar, who wears, as his badge of office, a decoration similar to that worn by the members of the Order, with the addition of two silver pens placed saltirewise between the angles of the cross, takes charge of the Seal of the Order, keeps a record of its members, conducts all correspondence connected with it, and makes an entry of all its proceedings in the register of the Order, the Chancery of which is in the office of the Lord Chamberlain of the Household.

THE ROYAL VICTORIAN ORDER

This Order, instituted by H M Queen Victoria, Empress of India, April 21st, 1896, consists of the Sovereign, Ordinary Members, and such Honorary Members as the Sovereign shall from time to time appoint, the Members being divided into five classes, and designated respectively (1) Knights Grand Cross, (2) Knights Commanders (3) Commanders (4) Members of the Fourth Class, and (5) Members of the Fifth Class

Royal Victorian Order

The persons to be admitted as Ordinary Members of this Order shall be such persons being subjects of the British Crown who, having rendered extraordinary, or important, or personal service to the Sovereign, merit Royal favour, and the Honorary Members of the several classes consist of those Foreign Princes and persons upon whom the Sovereign may think fit to confer the honour of being received into the Order

The Members of the several grades in the Order are to have place and precedence as follows—the Knights Grand Cross, Knights Commanders, and Commanders next to and immediately after the Knights Grand Cross and Knights Commanders of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire the Members of the Fourth Class after the Companions of the said Most Eminent Order, and the Members of the Fifth Class after the Companions of the Distinguished Service Order

The number of the Members is unlimited, and the anniversary of the Order is the Twentieth day of June every year, being the day of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria's Accession to the Throne of these Realms

The MANTLE of a Knight Grand Cross is of dark blue satin, edged with red satin two inches in width, the edging of the collar being half an inch wide lined with white silk, the mantle being fastened by a cordon of dark blue silk and gold having two dark blue silk and gold tassels attached thereto, on the left side of the mantle is embroidered a representation of the Star of a Knight Grand Cross of the Order. The COLLAR is of gold, composed of octagonal pieces and oblong perforated and ornamental frames alternately, linked together with gold, the said pieces edged and ornamented with gold, each containing upon a blue enamelled ground a gold rose jewelled with a carbuncle, and the said frames are of gold each containing a portion of the inscription 'Victoria Britt Reg Def Fid Ind Imp' in letters of white enamel, in the centre of the collar, within a perforated and ornamental frame of gold, is an octagonal piece, enamelled blue, edged with red and charged with a white saltire thereon a gold medallion of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria's effigy, from which hangs the Cross of the Order (detachable)

The BADGE of Knights Grand Cross consists of a white enamelled Maltese cross of eight points, on an oval centre of crimson enamel the Royal and Imperial cypher (V R I) in gold, within a blue enamelled circle, thereon the motto of the Order, namely, "Victoria" in letters of gold, the circle being surmounted by an Imperial Crown enamelled in proper colours, and is worn over the right shoulder, suspended from a dark blue ribbon with a narrow edge either side of three stripes—red, white, and red—of the breadth of three inches and three-quarters, passing from the right shoulder to the left side

K.G.C. Badge

The STAR of Knights Grand Cross consists of a silver chased star of eight points, in the centre a representation of the Badge of the First Class of the Order

The Knights Commanders wear around their necks a ribbon of the same colours as that of the Knights Grand Cross, of the breadth of one inch and three quarters, and pendent therefrom the badge, which is of the same pattern as, but of smaller size than, that of a Knight Grand Cross. The star is composed of a Maltese cross in silver, with smaller rays issuing from the centre between the angles of the cross, in the centre the badge of the Order as before described, with the cross in frosted silver instead of white enamel.

The Commanders wear around their necks the like riband and badge as that appointed for the Knights Commanders, but are not entitled to wear the star

The Members of the Fourth Class wear a badge of the same form and appearance as that appointed for the Commanders, but of smaller size, pendent from a ribbon of the same colours, of the breadth of an inch and a quarter, attached from the left breast.

The Members of the Fifth Class wear, from the left breast, the same riband and badge as that appointed for the Fourth Class, with the exception that the cross is of frosted silver instead of white enamel

The Collar is returnable at death, but not the other Insignia

[“The Royal Victorian Medal” (silver gilt, silver, or bronze having on the obverse the Royal effigy, and on the reverse the Royal and Imperial cypher upon an ornamental shield within a wreath of laurel, in base a scroll thereon the words “Royal Victorian Medal”) was also instituted by Queen Victoria. This Medal is worn on the left breast of the coat or outer garment pendent to a ribbon of the breadth of one inch and a quarter of the same colour and pattern as that appointed for the members of the Royal Victorian Order. Later King Edward VII founded a decoration, in Aug 1902 styled the “Royal Victorian Chain,” which is only bestowed on special occasions and may be worn on all occasions when the Ribbon of the Victorian Order is worn.]

THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER

This Order, instituted by H M Queen Victoria, by Royal Warrant, Sept 6th, 1886, consists of the Sovereign, and of the Members or Companions, and may be conferred on commissioned Officers of the Navy, Army, Marines, Air Force, or Indian and Colonial Naval and Military Forces, who have been specially mentioned in despatches for meritorious or distinguished services in the field or before the enemy. Bars may be added for additional acts of gallantry, indicated in undress uniform by silver rosettes worn on the ribbon. Since August 1st, 1918, this Order has been awarded in respect of active service for "services in action" only, i.e. (1) for service under fire; (2) distinguished individual service in connection with air raids, bombardments, or other enemy action.

The BADGE of the Order (which is not returnable at death) is a gold cross enamelled white, edged gold, having on one side thereof in the centre, within a wreath of laurels enamelled green, the Imperial Crown in gold, upon a red enamelled ground, and on the reverse, within a similar wreath, and on a similar red ground, the Imperial and Royal Cypher (of the current reign). It is to be suspended from the left breast by a red ribbon, edged blue of one inch in width, fitted into gilt clasp top and bottom.

Appointments are notified in the London Gazette and provision is made in the Statutes of the Order for the expulsion of offending persons from the Register of the Order by an order under Royal Sign Manual.

For RECIPIENTS see "COMPANIONAGE"

Secretary and Registrar—Sir Reginald Herbert Brade G C B

THE IMPERIAL SERVICE ORDER

This Order was instituted by King Edward VII on August 8th, 1902 (and extended June 1909 and March 1912), with a view of recognising faithful and meritorious service rendered by members (both male and female) of the administrative and clerical branches of the Civil Services of the various parts of the Empire. It now consists of the Sovereign, the Prince of Wales and not more than 700 Companions (250 for the Home Civil Service, 200 for the Civil Services in India, including the Staff of the Secretary of State for India (100 appointments for Europeans and 100 for natives of India) and 225 for the Civil Services of the Colonies and Protectorates including the Staff of the Crown Agents for the Colonies), recommended by one of the Principal Secretaries of State after 25 years' service (or 16 years in certain unhealthy Colonies). The BADGE of the Order, which is not returnable at death is (for men) a badge or medallion of gold or enamel, bearing the Imperial and Royal Cypher (of the current Reign), and the words "for faithful service," both executed in dark blue enamel on a plaque or shield of gold surrounded by a seven pointed star of silver surmounted by the Imperial Crown, and (for women) a similar badge, save that the plaque is surmounted by a wreath of laurel in silver in place of the star. This decoration is worn by males on the left breast suspended by a ribbon of one inch and a half in width (consisting of a stripe of blue between two stripes of crimson of equal size) and by females on the left shoulder suspended by a ribbon of the same colour and width fashioned into a bow. The Companions of the Order add the letters 'I S O' after their names. The Secretary and Registrar of the Order is ex officio a Companion. [Members of the Civil Service, not eligible as Companions of this Order may on retirement after 25 years of service in the United Kingdom, or in the case of Europeans serving in India 20 years service, or 16 in a Colony or Protectorate which is recognised as unhealthy, be awarded a medal designated the Imperial Service Medal, similar in design to the Badge of the Order. Not more than 5 Members under 25 years service may be so appointed in each year.]

Men's Badge

THE VICTORIA CROSS

BAR TO VC

The Victoria Cross Decoration was instituted January 29th, 1856, for the purpose of signalling special individual act of bravery. It may be conferred upon those holding any rank in the Naval or Military Services, and carries with it a pension of £10 to non commissioned officers and men. The Badge consists of a bronze cross patée with the Royal Crown in the centre and underneath a scroll bearing the inscription "For Valour". Additional acts of bravery are recorded by extra bars affixed to the ribbon (an inch and a half in width) suspending the Cross, the colour of which is red. In undress uniform a miniature replica of the actual cross is worn, any bars gained being indicated by additional miniature crosses on the ribbon; each extra bar carries an additional £5 per annum. Recipients place "V C" after their names. It was extended in 1911 to include the native officers, non commissioned officers, and men of the Indian Army, the pension being for officers 525 and 150 rupees for Cross and additional bars respectively, while for non commissioned officers and men it is 150 and 75 rupees respectively. In June 1920 the award of the Victoria Cross was extended to include women, and Matrons, Sisters, Nurses and the Staff of Nursing Services and other services pertaining to Hospitals and Nursing and Civilians of either sex serving regularly or temporarily under the orders, direction, or supervision of the Naval, Military, and Air Forces of the Empire, are now eligible.

THE MILITARY CROSS

BAR TO MC

The Military Cross was instituted as a Decoration on December 28th, 1914 to reward distinguished services rendered by Officers of certain ranks in the Army in time of War. It consists of a cross of silver, having on each arm the Imperial Crown and bearing in the centre the Royal and Imperial Cypher. No person is eligible for this Decoration unless he is a Captain, a Temporary Major, an Acting or Temporary Chaplain (3rd class), a Commissioned Officer of a lower grade, or a Warrant Officer (Class I and Class II) in any of the Military Forces of the Crown, but Foreign Officers of an equivalent rank who have been associated in military operations with the above mentioned Forces are eligible for the award. Bars may be added for additional Acts of gallantry, these are indicated in undress uniform by small silver rosettes worn on the ribbon. Since August 1st, 1918, it has been awarded for "services in action" only, i.e. (1) for service under fire, (2) distinguished individual service in connection with air raids, bombardments, or other enemy action.

The Military Cross is worn immediately after all Orders and before all Decorations and Medals (the Victoria Cross alone excepted), and is worn on the left breast pendant from a ribbon one inch and three eighths in width, the colour of which is white with a purple stripe. The Decoration confers no special precedence, but entitles the recipient to the letters "M C" after his name.

THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS

This Naval Decoration (formerly known as the Conspicuous Service Cross, and instituted in June 1901) has since October 1914 been awarded for services before the enemy to Officers of the Royal Navy below the rank of Lieut-Com, as well as to Warrant Officers Acting Warrant Officers, and Subordinate Officers previously eligible. The Distinguished Service Cross consists of a Silver Cross with the reverse side plain, but having on the obverse side in the centre the Imperial and Royal Cypher, surmounted by the Imperial Crown. The letters "DSC" are placed after the name of the recipient.

BAR TO DSC

BAR TO DFC

THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

This Decoration has a purple and white ribbon (one inch and a quarter in width, of violet and white alternate diagonal stripes each one eighth of an inch wide running at an angle of 45° degrees, and showing in the top left hand and bottom right hand corners triangles of violet of equal dimensions), it is awarded to Officers and Warrant Officers for acts of gallantry when flying in active operations against the enemy. The letters "DFC" are placed after the name of the recipient.

BAR TO AFC

THE AIR FORCE CROSS

This Decoration has a red and white ribbon one inch and a quarter in width, of red and white alternate diagonal stripes, each one eighth of an inch wide running at an angle of 45° degrees and showing in the top left hand and bottom right hand corners triangles of red of equal dimensions, it is awarded to Officers and Warrant Officers for acts of courage or devotion to duty when flying, although not in active operations against the enemy, and also to individuals not belonging to the Air Force (whether Naval, Military, or Civil) who render service to aviation by actual flying. The letters "AFC" are placed after the name of the recipient.

THE KAISAR-I HIND MEDAL

This Decoration which was instituted by Queen Victoria in 1900 and amended in 1901 and 1912, is bestowed for the rendering of public service in India without distinction of race or sex, and consists of two classes, the medal being of gold for the First Class (on recommendation of the Sec of State for India), and of silver for the Second (on recommendation of the Gov Gen of India). It consists of an oval shaped Badge with Royal Cipher in the centre on one side, and the words "Kaisar-i Hind for Public Service" on the other, extra bars are granted for additional services.

THE ORDER OF THE HOSPITAL OF ST JOHN OF JERUSALEM IN ENGLAND

This Confraternity has for its object the carrying on and performance of ambulance and other charitable work. It received a Royal Charter of Incorporation under the name of "The Grand Priory of the Order of the Hospital of St John of Jerusalem in England" in 1888, and consists of Knights and Ladies of Justice, Chaplains, Knights and Ladies of Grace, and Esquires. A supplemental Charter was granted in 1907, empowering the Grand Prior to establish Priories in any part of the British Dominions. Appointments to the Order are sanctioned, but not made, by the Sovereign, and while the Insignia of the Order may be worn in England, such appointments to the Order do not carry with them any rank, style, title, or personal precedence. The Badge is a white enamelled Maltese Cross with a lion and unicorn in alternate angles. This Order is not the same as the Ancient Order of St John of Jerusalem, or Knights of Malta.

THE ORDER OF MERCY

Appointments to this Order are approved and sanctioned by the Sovereign on the presentation of the Grand President of the League of Mercy, as a reward for distinguished personal service rendered on behalf of the League (established to assist the support of hospitals), or in connection with the relief of suffering, poverty, or distress. The Order consists of a red cross surmounted by the Badge of the Heir Apparent (plume of ostrich feathers enfiled by a coronet), and having in the centre a group of figures representing "Charity". Persons of either sex, who have gratuitously rendered the required services to the League for five years at least, are eligible for the Order.

FOREIGN ORDERS

Under date of May 20th, 1914, fresh regulations were issued respecting the wearing of Foreign Orders and Medals, intimating that it is the King's wish that no subject of His Majesty shall wear the Insignia of any Foreign Order without having previously obtained His Majesty's permission to do so, signified either (a) By Warrant under the Royal Sign Manual, or (b) by private permission conveyed through His Majesty's Private Secretary. Permission given by Warrant under the Royal Sign Manual will enable the Insignia of the Foreign Order to be worn at all times and without any restriction, but does not authorize the assumption of any style, rank, or precedence of a Knight Bachelor. Private permission will only enable the Insignia to be worn on the occasions specified in the terms of the letter from the King's Private Secretary conveying the Royal sanction. The full regulations and the particular services to which the two forms of permission are applicable are fully set out in the London Gazette of May 22nd, 1914. "Unrestricted permission" to wear Decorations bestowed by Rulers of Allied States upon British Naval and Military Officers (other than those on the retired list serving with Red Cross or kindred organisations) for services during the War, has been granted by H M. as set out in the Foreign Office Regulations dated November 1917, and whose names are so notified in the London Gazette. This means that an Officer so gazetted is at liberty to wear his Foreign Decoration or its Ribbon on all occasions on which a British Decoration or its Ribbon would be worn, without any Royal Warrant being required to enable him to do so.

THE KNIGHTAGE.

FOREIGN ORDERS

Under date of May 20th, 1914, fresh regulations were issued respecting the wearing of Foreign Orders and Medals, intimating that it is the King's wish that no subject of His Majesty shall wear the Insignia of any Foreign Order without having previously obtained His Majesty's permission to do so, signified either (a) By Warrant under the Royal Sign Manual, or (b) by private permission conveyed through His Majesty's Private Secretary. Permission given by Warrant under the Royal Sign Manual will enable the Insignia of the Foreign Order to be worn at all times and without any restriction, but does not authorize the assumption of any style, rank, or precedence of a Knight Bachelor. Private permission will only enable the Insignia to be worn on the occasions specified in the terms of the letter from the King's Private Secretary conveying the Royal sanction. The full regulations and the particular services to which the two forms of permission are applicable are fully set out in the London Gazette of May 22nd, 1914. "Unrestricted permission" to wear Decorations bestowed by Rulers of Allied States upon British Naval and Military Officers (other than those on the retired list serving with Red Cross or kindred organisations) for services during the War, has been granted by H M as set out in the Foreign Office Regulations dated November 1917, and whose names are so notified in the London Gazette. This means that an Officer so gazetted is at liberty to wear his Foreign Decoration or its Ribbon on all occasions on which a British Decoration or its Ribbon would be worn, without any Royal Warrant being required to enable him to do so.

THE KNIGHTAGE.

* For WIDOWS OF KNIGHTS see page 1237

Names of Peers and Baronets who have received the honour of Knighthood will not be found in this list, but are arranged alphabetically in their respective sections

A list of the Knights of the Garter Thistle and St. Patrick is given separately on a preceding page, also a List of Members of the Order of Merit and Companions of Honour

Particulars concerning Indian gentlemen appear under the initial letter of the first component part of their names, or under their territorial title

This list includes Dames of the British Empire and recipients of the Royal Victorian Chain not elsewhere referred to but not as a rule Honorary Knights
